

Foxi Underlay: Installation Instructions

Position the Rug

Place the rug in the desired position and direction and mark the corners with low-tack masking tape. Move the rug away (if large, leave the rug in place and carefully roll away half the rug, so that it can be rolled back again).

*For larger rugs, or to reposition a rug it is always better to roll the rug out of the way, to avoid creasing or distorting the underlay (caused by dragging).

Lay The Foxi in Position.

Cut the Foxi to size. We recommend that the cut is 1.5-2.5cms smaller than the rug all the way around. (Use the masking tape as a guide). The rug should only slightly overlap the edge of the Foxi (enough for it to tip down and not cause a trip hazard, but not so big as to cause a visible ridge).

Carefully Roll/Place the Rug Back on Top

If the rug is large, repeat the process so that both ends (or sides) of the rug are sitting correctly on the underlay.

Always lay Foxi printed side up.

Joining Foxi SuperPlus: Lay cut lengths of Foxi butting up beside each other, without overlapping and without gaps. There is no need to tape the joins.
